Substantive session of 1994
New York, 27 June-29 July 1994
Agenda item 5 (d)

SOCIAL, HUMANITARIAN AND HUMAN RIGHTS QUESTIONS:
HUMAN RIGHTS QUESTIONS

Letter dated 8 July 1994 from the Chairman of the Commission on Human Rights at its fiftieth session to the President of the Economic and Social Council

During the fiftieth session of the Commission on Human Rights a process was started to review organizational matters related to the sessions of the Commission.

One such matter which was considered was a proposal to have the Commission meet later in the year. There was broad agreement, not only within the bureau of the Commission, but also among member States and with the Centre for Human Rights, that sessions taking place later in the year would have a positive effect on the availability of documentation for instance. It was suggested to me by the United Nations Secretariat in Geneva that the Commission on Human Rights could hold its session from 13 March to 21 April 1995.

I was given to understand that a change in dates requires a decision by the Economic and Social Council. I would therefore be most grateful if you, in your capacity as President of the Economic and Social Council, would propose to the Council that the next session of the Commission on Human Rights take place from 13 March to 21 April 1995.

Human Rights at its fiftieth session
